

Ann Keen has worked providing the Public Sector across Europe with Document and Records Management solution since 1995. Since 2008 she has worked for Preservica Ltd (formerly known as Tessella Archiving Division), providing digital preservation solutions, to mainly archives and libraries across the world. This includes solutions ranging from large national institutions to much smaller regional bodies. Ann is interested in the interfaces between public sector records management systems and digital preservation systems and their metadata schemas and methods of transferring data and records seamlessly are of particular interest. She is hoping to be able to feedback information from the DLM Forum to Preservica's User Group and to contribute with their views at the members meeting. Ann has an MSc in Electronic Engineering from the Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm.
